

Free Fire's newest crossover welcomes in-game One-Punch Man content

Garena's latest crossover unites one of the world's most popular mobile games with its most powerful hero

Singapore, December 21, 2020 – Garena has announced a new crossover event that will bring One-Punch Man content into the Free Fire universe. The collaboration unites one of the world's most popular mobile games with its most powerful hero, and offers players from all over the world access to playable in-game content from One-Punch Man.

“We’re excited to welcome one of Japan’s most iconic heroes into the Free Fire universe. We’re always looking to create novel, in-game content infused with influences from across the world and believe that our partnership with One-Punch Man will offer our global community of players even more opportunities to battle in style,” said Harold Teo, Free Fire Producer at Garena.

Free Fire’s partnership with One-Punch Man will offer players the chance to obtain iconic One-Punch Man costumes and in-game items and collectables. Players will be hoping these will enable them to channel Saitama’s ability to defeat any opponent with a single punch. But they will hope not to find themselves in a similar situation as our unmatched hero – of being unable to find a worthy foe due to his overwhelming strength!

There will be plenty of One-Punch Man-themed content in store for players, so stay tuned for more updates. For the latest on the Free Fire x One-Punch Man partnership, follow us at the following locations:
